++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy rain in west. Becoming drier in east. Windy.

Today:
Cloudy with rain quickly extending eastwards to all parts. The rain will become most persistent and heaviest over the west Highlands with drier interludes developing in the east. It will be a mild day with strong southwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloudy with rain at first, heaviest in the west. The rain will move away southwards overnight with drier, clearer conditions following. A mild night with fresh southwest winds. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Wednesday:
A drier and brighter day with some sunshine. There will be a few showers, mostly towards the West Coast. Another mild day and staying breezy. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A changeable few days. Bright spells on Thursday with blustery showers, then cloudy with more persistent, heavier rain Friday. A return to brighter, showery weather looks likely on Saturday.
